The FSGA held its annual dinner on Friday, November 18 at Palma Ceia Golf and Country Club in Tampa. In conjunction with the FWSGA, the FSGA recognized the Players-of-the-Year, Volunteer-of-the-Year and Florida Junior Tour Players-of-the-Year. Decision Changes for 2006

by Jack Pultorak, FSGA Director of Rules and Competitions

Get ready as the winds of change are blowin' again! Here comes 2006, and with it we'll usher in some new Decisions on the Rules of Golf and one important new Local Rule that will affect millions of golfers.

Effective January 1, 2006, there will be 37 new and 66 revised Decisions, while eight have been withdrawn.

I believe the one that will affect the most people will be the Committee having the authority to allow the use of GPS systems and laser rangefinders in competitions. New Decision 14-3/0.5 will allow the Committee to permit distance measuring devices only by Local Rule.

The Committee will NOT have the authority to permit other types of measuring devices such as those that measure slope or wind that would have the ability to affect a player's game.

Now before all of us give up and jump out of the window, hold on just a second. Whether you get the information from a caddie or a GPS, you still have to hit the shot. This game is still about skill.

A lot of people thought the game was lost when William Taylor applied a dimple pattern to a golf ball back in 1905 and The Haskell was introduced. Or how about the introductions of steel shafts! Originally turned down in 1911 some twenty years after originally being advertised, the idea was rejected for a second time in 1913. Finally, they were approved by the USGA in 1926 and the R & A followed suit in 1929. Surely the game was gone forever!

The game is steeped in history and tradition and we all are charged with the task of leaving the game a little bit better than we found it. Ten years from now I believe we'll look back and have a chuckle over the stir when range finders and GPS were first introduced. I think the game will endure and be just fine.

Now about the golf ball..that's another story!

The new edition of Decisions on the Rules of Golf will be available in mid-December and can be purchased for $15.95 (or $12.95 for USGA Members and Regional/State Amateur Golf Associations) by calling the USGA Order Department at (800) 336-4446 or through the USGA website at www.usga.org.

Volunteer-of-the-Year

Pete Sniezko was named the 2005 FSGA Volunteer-of-the-Year for his hard work and dedication to the game. Pete is a Board member and has been a Tournament Chairman in the Panhandle for the past three years. Pete can be seen at mostly every event in the Panhandle!

Is your Club Licensed to Issue USGA Handicaps?

As 2006 quickly approaches, make sure your club is licensed to issue USGA Handicaps. The United States Golf Association (USGA) now requires every golf club that utilizes the USGA Handicap System to be licensed by July 1, 2006. The FSGA is conducting Seminars to help your club obtain certification. To date, the FSGA has certified more than 900 individuals in the Handicap System. Visit www.fsga.org to see if your club is authorized to utilize the USGA Handicap System. If you do not see your club on this list, please tell your club staff to attend a seminar to obtain certification or call the FSGA at (813) 632-3742 for more information. Seminars include:
