"This course is very demanding so if you make a mistake you pay for it." Cleland just went to The Masters and joked with his group that "he saw how to win."

Winter Series Wrap Up

Tim Kremer, Kim Schwencke and Ray Darmstadt finished on top of their respective divisions in the final point standings of the 2005-2006 FSGA Winter Series.

Tim Kremer, of Port St. Lucie, won the first event of the season en route to claiming the 40-54 age division point standings for the second consecutive year. Kremer totaled 495 points with a win at Falcon's Fire and two second place finishes for the season. By finishing with the most points, Kremer earns an exemption into the 2006 Amateur Championship.

In the 55-64 age division, Kim Schwencke, from Temple Terrace, bettered his second place finish in last year's point standings to lead this year with 710 points. Schwencke won the Ballantrae event and with partner Jimmy Key came in first in the Baytree four-ball event in a younger age division. He also placed second at Tampa Palms and Venetian and third at Alaqua Lakes. Schwencke also gains an exemption into the Amateur this summer.

Ray Darmstadt, from Cocoa Beach, won three events this season to prevail in the 65 and over age division with the most points. Darmstadt finished with 680 points edging out Peter Jackson by 25 points. Darmstadt won individual events at Ballantrae and Alaqua Lakes and the four-ball event at Baytree. He also took second place at Falcon's Fire and Tampa Palms. Like Schwencke, Darmstadt finished second in last season's point standings.

Getting Away from Ground Under Repair on a Putting Green

by Jack Pultorak, FSGA Director of Rules and Competitions

As spring turns to summer and the rains approach, we all may need to sharpen up on how to take relief from an abnormal ground condition on a putting green.

An “abnormal ground condition” is any casual water, ground under repair or hole, cast or runway on the course made by a burrowing animal, a reptile or a bird.

This time of year means that the grasses on the putting greens in most of the state are transitioning from the over seeded cool weather grasses that have been grown during the winter back to the underlying Bermuda grasses that earlier lie dormant. If weather conditions and maintenance practices don’t work out right for your Superintendent, you could be left with some bare spots that may need to be repaired with sod patches.

Also, when the rains fall so much as to leave puddles on the putting green, you are left with casual water on the putting green. This too is an abnormal ground condition.

Rule 25-1a explains what interference is and Rule 25-1b (iii) tells us how to get away from it on a putting green.

First of all, to have interference on the putting green, your ball must lie on the putting green. If your ball lies off the putting green, there is no relief under this portion of the Rule but you may have relief for a ball that lies “through the green” (Rule 25-1b(i)); that’s for another article at a later time.

Here’s what Rule 25-1b(iii) says: “If the ball lies on the putting green, the player must lift the ball and place it without penalty at the nearest point of relief, that is not in a hazard, or if complete relief is impossible, at the nearest position to where it lay that affords maximum available relief from the condition, but not nearer the hole and not in a hazard. The nearest point of relief or maximum available relief may be off the putting green.”

So if we have interference, here’s what we do. If you’re thirty feet from the hole, start by walking an equidistant arc that is thirty feet from the hole in either direction from your ball. You’ll probably find two places on that arc (unless the hole is completely surrounded by an abnormal ground condition) that avoid the abnormal condition and are both thirty feet (no nearer) from the hole. Find the one that affords complete relief, if available, and is nearest to where your ball lies on the putting green. If you want to take this free relief option, PLACE your ball at that point. You may find that the nearest point of relief is off the green. You don’t have to take relief if you don’t want to under this Rule. The key thing to remember is that you are ALWAYS GOING TO PLACE the ball if you do take relief.

And remember I mentioned “unless the hole is completely surrounded by an abnormal ground condition”. Suppose the hole is completely encircled by casual water. You find the nearest spot that affords “maximum available relief” on that thirty foot arc and place your ball there. What’s maximum available relief? If you have a choice of putting through $\frac{1}{4}$ ” of water as opposed to $\frac{3}{4}$ ” of water, the point that affords maximum available relief means you putt through the $\frac{1}{4}$ ” of casual water! (I don’t write them, I just enforce them)

Remember, knowing and following the Rules of Golf can assist you in avoiding unnecessary penalties and help you to enjoy this great game of golf even more.

Is your Club Licensed to Issue Handicaps?

The FSGA continues to attempt to get clubs certified in the USGA Handicap System. We have conducted over 15 Seminars just this year designed to certify a chairperson at every club. More than 415 clubs are now licensed to issue handicaps but we need your help spreading the word. Please visit www.fsga.org to see if your club is authorized to issue handicaps and if not, tell your club staff to have a representative attend one of the following Seminars to obtain certification. All clubs must be licensed by July 2006!

Handicap Certification Seminar Schedule

Play Where the Pros Play!

Entries close for the 57th Four-Ball Championship at the Westin Innisbrook Golf Resort on May 24 with the Championship being played on July 8-9. First, competitors must attempt to qualify at one of eight sites across the state

From June 14-28, teams of two will play 18 holes of four-ball stroke play in the qualifying in hopes of advancing to the Championship at Innisbrook. The Championship will also feature exempt teams who earned exempt status through different categories. In the Championship, participants will play 36 holes of four-ball stroke play in the two-day event on the Copperhead Course, home of the PGA Tour's Chrysler Championship. In four-ball stroke play, two competitors play as partners, each playing his own ball. The lower score of the partners is the score for the hole.

Last year at Grand Cypress Golf Club in Orlando, Steve Carter and Andy Purnell set a new tournament record shooting a 64-59—123. The pair from Jacksonville is exempt into this year's Championship.

Junior Coordinators Meet in Orlando

The FSGA hosted the 8th Florida Junior Golf Conference on March 18 at ChampionsGate Golf Resort with over 30 junior coordinators in attendance representing more than 20 junior programs from around the state.

Fundraising was a popular topic during the open forum session and many great ideas were discussed to improve fundraising. Christy Peacock, Charlie DeLuca, and Tom Dudley, with the Florida Sports Commission, spoke in regard to the Florida License Plate Junior Golf Grant and guided everyone through the grant application process and provided some tips on filling out the forms.

Attracting volunteers and handling parents was another issue that was discussed. Several programs shared excellent ideas and methods in dealing with those difficult areas. In addition, Les Brown explained the new Pace of Play Policy that the FSGA, AJGA, and USGA are using in most of its junior competitions with timing checkpoints. The FJT has started using this system and it has proven to be successful.

The FSGA announced the possibility of starting a traveling Rules of Golf Workshop strictly for junior golfers. The idea was met with excitement and positive comments among those in attendance. The idea is to have certified Rules instructors travel to various sections of the state and teach a 2-4 hour, highly interactive Rules Workshops for junior golfers. The workshop would be taught mostly outside and will stress the importance of etiquette, pace of play, and cover the most common Rules that golfers encounter.

Everyone in attendance received various handouts including a USGA Fundraising Guide, FSGA junior scholarship applications and a CD containing a scoreboard template to assist their junior programs. In all, everyone left feeling they learned more what is available to their programs and how to use it to their fullest potential.

Junior Florida Cup

The Junior Florida Cup was instituted this year to match the top juniors, boys and girls, from North Florida versus South Florida in a Ryder Cup format. Lake Nona Golf and Country Club in Orlando will host this inaugural competition on June 14-15.

Each team will consist of 12 boys and 8 girls selected mostly from the FJT Points List. The first morning, each boy and girl will be paired with a partner to compete in four-ball match play. The afternoon round will feature boys and girls paired together to play mixed-foursomes matches. The final day each player will play a singles match against a player from the opposing team. Points will awarded to each match similarly to the Ryder Cup to determine the winning team.

Support GHIN & Your State Golf Association

As many of you may know, the Florida State Golf Association administers the USGA's GHIN Handicap System in the state. The revenue generated from the GHIN System helps fund the many great things we do for the game of golf in Florida including junior programs and scholarships. We are proud to say that last year we awarded more than $90,000 in scholarships and grants.

We are continuously trying to get all clubs in the state unified onto one Handicap System, the GHIN Handicap System. We are reaching out to our members and asking them to assist us with getting the GHIN Handicap System into their club. There are many reasons why the GHIN System separates itself from the competition.

First, the GHIN System is a golf handicap service networked to more than 9,000 clubs nationwide. This allows members to post scores at any other GHIN club - perfect for seasonal golfers. Members can also post scores online at www.ghin.com.

The GHIN System was developed by the USGA so you can be confident your scores are figured correctly and are in compliance with USGA guidelines.

The service includes all computer hardware and software. TPP, the Tournament Package, provided with GHIN is the most advanced tournament management system available.

In addition, the FSGA offers around-the-clock exceptional customer service. We make on-site visits and we are always available for your phone calls.

There are more than 500 clubs statewide using the GHIN Handicap System, why not get your club to join the most efficient and trouble-free system available?

Your support of GHIN is a win-win situation for you, your club and golf in Florida. Please tell your golf committee and staff about this great system and demand that it gets into your club. Please call us with any questions and we thank you for your support of GHIN and the FSGA.
