Interlachen Country Club Captures State Club Team Championship

Jim Byington, David Boesel, Joe Meier, and Randy Elliott claim the 2002 Club Team Championship trophy.

Determined to improve their runner-up standing at last year's championship, the Interlachen Country Club team of David Boesel, Jim Byington, Randy Elliott, and Joe Meier won the 61st Florida State Club Team Championship at Port St. Lucie's PGA Golf Club in May.

After round one, Interlachen (Winter Park) was in fifth place shooting 225. Boesel led the team with a 73, while Meier and Elliott shot 74 and 78. Three teams were tied for second at 224, and LaGorce Country Club (Miami Beach) was in the lead at 223.

On Sunday, Interlachen's Byington and Rio Pinar Country Club member Cap Caponi came out and fired 69's - the lowest scores of the event. With Boesel's 70 and Elliott's 73 on Sunday, Interlachen finished 225-212--437 and won by 8 shots. This was Elliott's second victory at PGA Golf Club. He won the 2001 State Mid-Senior Championship here last season.

LaGorce finished second scoring 223-222--445. Andres Gaviria led the team posting 74-72, followed by Scott Copeland and Bradley Hopkins who shot 73-75 and 76-75 respectively. Riviera Country Club (Coral Gables) scored 224-225--449 for third place.

2003 Winter Series Schedule Expands to Eight Events

With the success of the 2002 Winter Series, two more events have been added for the 2003 Series. Four two-man team events and four individual stroke-play events are planned. All eight events will be 36 holes, played over two days.

Age divisions for the Winter Series have also been updated. Competitors will play in the age group commensurate with their age as of April 8, 2003. (i.e., if you turn 50 before April 8, you would enter ALL winter series events in the 50-year-old division).

- 40 - 54: tees set at 6500-6600 yards
- 55 - 64: tees set at 6500-6600 yards
- 65 & Over: tees set at 6100-6200 yards

2000 Senior Champions Win Again in 2002

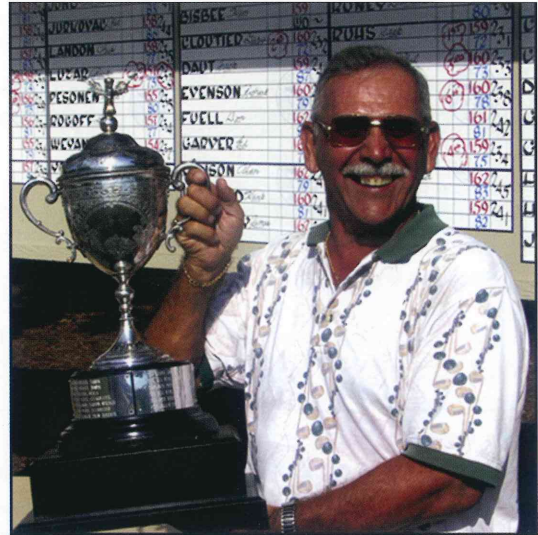

Cristillo and Harris Reclaim the State Senior and Super Senior Titles

Joseph Cristillo, Crystal River, and Bob Harris, Boynton Beach, gave repeat performances at The Forest Country Club in Ft. Myers with their second victories at the State Senior Championship.

Cristillo began the final day two shots ahead of Tom Hayes of Pensacola, who evened up the score by the 6th hole. By the 10th, Hayes was up to a two-stroke lead before a triple bogey on 15 put him back 2 of Cristillo. Finally, Hayes' 12-foot putt for birdie on the 18th forced Cristillo to par the hole to win by one.

Cristillo posted 71-73-77--221 to win one over Hayes and Ron Cleland of Naples. Tying for second, Hayes scored 70-76-76--222 and Cleland posted 74-75-73--222. Cleland fought his way up the leader board the last day when he was tied for fifth with four other players after round two. Coming in with 77-72-74--223, Norman Swenson of Boynton Beach placed fourth.

Harris maintained his 5-stroke lead on the final day to win the Super Senior Division shooting 71-71-75--217. Bob Davis of Ft. Myers took second with scores of 73-74-75--222. The 2001 Super Senior Champion Hal Knuth of Port Charlotte tied for third with Tampa's Walter Baldwin. Knuth shot 83-73-77--233, while Baldwin's totals were 81-76-76--233.

For the second time in 3 years, Joseph Cristillo holds the Senior Championship trophy.

Tom Hayes alternated with Cristillo for the lead throughout the three days of the championship.

Late to the Tee

By Jack Pultorak
Director of Rules & Competitions

It was 9:12 AM and Joe Doe (name changed to protect the guilty) was scheduled to tee off tee #1 of the Haig Course of PGA National Golf Club in the final FSGA Winter Series event in two minutes. He wasn't at the first tee or the tenth tee, yet he had checked in earlier at registration. I quickly pulled up at the practice putting green and practice range area and proclaimed in a loud voice "the 9:12 starting time goes in one minute!" A couple of heads turned but no one seemed to make a quick move towards tee #1.

A minute or so later I noticed a competitor heading for the first tee in his cart and realized that it must be him and a two stroke penalty was inevitable.

Rule 6-3a says that the player shall start at the time laid down by the Committee. The FSGA has the Note to Rule 6-3 in effect in all of its competitions. In absence of the Note being in effect, the penalty for being late to the tee is disqualification. The Note allows the Committee to provide in the conditions of competition (Rule 33-1) that, if the player arrives at his starting point, ready to play, within five minutes after his starting time, in the absence of circumstances which warrant waiving the penalty of disqualification as provided in Rule 33-7, the penalty for failure to start on time is loss of hole in match play or two strokes at the first hole in stroke play instead of disqualification.

Also, it is a policy of the FSGA not to look for a player who is about to be late for a starting time. Being on time is covered under Rule 6 which deals with some of the responsibilities of the player; not the Committee. If a member of the Committee were to search for an apparent tardy player, it would need to do so for all players and not just a select few. In fairness to all, we leave the players' responsibilities to the players and concentrate on the duties of the Committee (Rule 33).

John Doe was upset when he was told of his two stroke penalty. He protested in vain that he had to use the restroom just before his tee time in order to avoid what may have become an embarrassing situation for all. Still, adding two strokes was the decision.

His final plea for leniency was that he was only 45 seconds late to the tee and did not deserve the full two stroke penalty.

If a ball is only two inches out of bounds instead of ten yards, should the penalty be any less? The ruling would stand, add two strokes and play hard. I think John Doe learned the rule the hard way. Get to the tee on time!

Junior Player Continues Golf Tradition

Third Generation Jamieson Competes in Scotland

Sixteen-year-old Robert Jamieson of Orlando is the third generation of the Jamieson family to compete in the Scottish Boys Match Play Championship. In April, Robert followed in his father's and grandfather's footsteps by traveling to West Kilbride, Scotland, and playing in the prestigious event. First held in 1935, the Scottish Boys Match Play Championship is one of the Scottish Golf Union's flagship events.

Robert Jamieson followed in his father and grandfathers footsteps this spring by playing in the Scottish Boys Match Play Championship.

Robert's father, Gregor Jamieson, is the Director of Golf at Orlando's Lake Nona Golf Club and Isleworth Country Club. He competed in the championship from 1970-1973. Bob Jamieson, Robert's grandfather, played in the 1947 event and eventually went on to be the head professional at Scotland's Turnberry course for 30 years.

Other family members are also involved in the game. Robert's maternal grandfather, Dick Tiddy, has been the Director of Golf at Orlando's Bay Hill for more than 20 years. His sister Lesley is a freshman at Wake Forest University and a member of the golf team.

During the championship, Robert won the first round 5 & 4 before taking a loss the second day with a 2 & 1. He was also recognized in the press as being only one of two North Americans competing and for his family's history in the event. To be eligible to play, each competitor has to meet one of two criteria: 1) to have been born in Scotland or 2) to have one Scottish parent. Robert fulfilled both requirements - he was born in Irvine, Scotland.

Now Robert is looking forward to the qualifiers for the US Open, US Junior, and the US Amateur. As a high school junior, he is also visiting prospective colleges and looking at both golf and academic programs.

2002 Winter Series Wraps Up

Division Leaders Awarded FSGA Logo'd Golf Bags

Concluding the final Winter Series event at PGA National Golf Club, players who led the series points list in each age group of both the net and gross divisions were awarded a FSGA logo'd Burton golf bag by FSGA President Mallory Privett.

Robert Martin of Ft. Lauderdale, Bob Sims of Tallahassee, and Cary Spicuzza of Sarasota accumulated the most points in the gross standings for their age divisions, while Ray Darmstadt of Cocoa Beach, Michael Alford of Englewood, and Bill Moore of Valrico each won in their age group for the net standings.

Robert Martin also earned the most points overall for his gross scores during the entire Winter Series and won an exemption into the 2002 State Amateur being played at ChampionsGate Golf Resort June 20-23.

With 440 points, Bob Martin earned the most gross points overall and in the 60 and over division.

Bob Sims won in the 50-59 age group with 300 gross points.

At the Turn

Small Earns Perfect Score at Rules School

Skip Small of Neptune Beach scored a 100% on the Rules of Golf exam during a recent PGA/USGA Tournament Administration Workshop in Ponte Vedra Beach. Small is on the Board of Directors for the FSGA.

Elliott Shoots Age

Richard Elliott of Brooksville Golf and Country Club shot his age (63) on April 8th. Congratulations, Richard!

Regional Seminars Held for Course Raters

Four regional Calibration and Course Rating Update Seminars took place in April and May for FSGA course rating volunteers. Marcia Morris, Manager of Course Rating, coordinated the events and traveled to Palm Beach Gardens, Ft. Myers, Dade City, and St. Augustine to host each workshop. Course Rating Advisory Board Members Karen Korf, Charlie Bedford, Ed Boyer, and Mallory Privett conducted the seminars and shared their course rating experience.

Who's Who at the FSGA Office

Staff Member: Mike "Tunes" Antunes

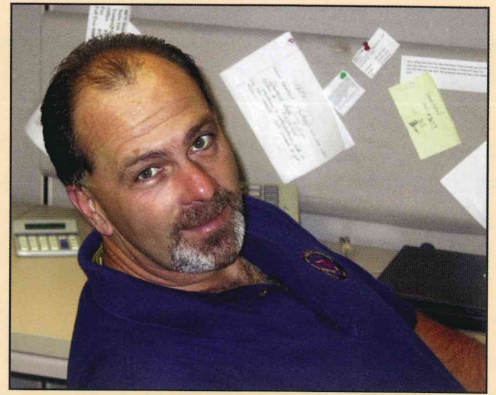

Joined Staff: April 1996

Position: Director of Handicapping and GHIN. Responsible for handicapping and the GHIN system in the state of Florida. Three regional managers work with Mike to support clubs across the state.

How often do you play golf? "I could play more than I do - I just don't seem to find the time. Play a few times a year."

What is your handicap? "About 22."

What is your golf background? "Started working in a golf shop in 1991, then I went to the Sun Country Amateur Golf Association (New Mexico and West Texas) where I worked in all aspects of association business for 3 years."

Mike Antunes
FSGA Director of GHIN & Handicapping

"My more memorable moments were playing in the military league in New Mexico when I was in the Air Force. There was a match ladder set up at the golf course where people had a chance to progress after beating the person above them. It was quite the center of fun and controversy."

"Every once in a while members of the FSGA office have a chance to compete against each other, which is sure to result in bragging rights and adds to the spirit and competitiveness we enjoy in the office."

Other interests? "I have owned and ridden a horse, worked a 2000-acre ranch in New Mexico, taken flying lessons and have 60 hours in a Cessna 172, drag raced my car in the 12-second area at 117 mph, and bowled in leagues (I had about a 160 average). I love new challenges and though I'm not very good at any one thing, I enjoy just about anything. I particularly enjoy the challenge of GHIN in Florida as it is an ever changing scenario."

New Pro Division at Parent-Child Championship

Enjoy Golfing at Disney World This Summer with Your Kids!

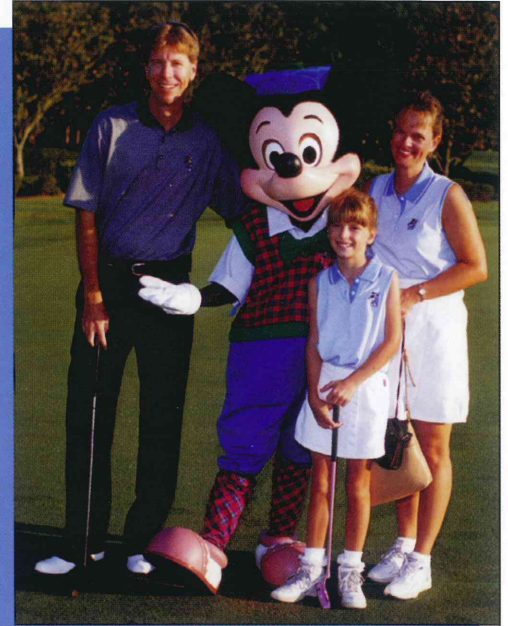

Join the FSGA this summer at Disney World for a fun-filled weekend golfing with your family at the Parent-Child Championship. A new group of competitors has been added for 2002 as this event's popularity continues to grow.

This year's Parent-Child will include a new Pro Division, in which golf pro's and their child or grandchild can compete with other pro's and their children. Either player or both players on the team may be a professional. Pro's may also compete in the Junior Division if their child is 6-11 years of age.

Four courses at Walt Disney World Resort will host the event. The Regular Division will play Eagle Pines and Osprey Ridge, the Pro Division plays Magnolia, and the Junior Division (children ages 6-11) will be on the Oak Trail executive course.

- Location: Walt Disney World Resort
Date: August 3-4
Entry Fee: $280 Regular/Pro Divisions
$140 Junior Division
Entries Close: 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 10
